- Snow leopards live in Central Asia and the Himalayan Mountains of Bhutan, India, Nepal and Tibet.
- Adult male snow leopards measure up to 2.10 meters in length (including a tail of up to 1 meter).
- They need long tails to help them to balance when they leap across the rocky ground.
- They've got wide noses to help them to breathe because there isn't much oxygen high in the mountains.
- Their furry feet help them to balance on top of the snow.
- They eat deer, hares and boars.
- A snow leopard can jump up to 15 meters.
- Baby snow leopards weigh half a kilo.
